About Silver Linings Retreats

Regularly featured in The Financial Times How To Spend It and The Daily Telegraph, Silver Linings host holistic wellness experiences in magical settings around the world, but attract extra attention due to the expert founder, Chrissy Sundt, being an ex-Royal Ballet dancer, and currently a choreographer. Thanks to her expertise, pilates, yoga and barre become elevated experiences. Her story of healing from injury which ended her dancing career became the inspiration for Silver Linings. Stand back and prepare for ballerina-level focus and great results during Chrissy's Silver Linings classes. Niki Rein, founder and master trainer of internationally acclaimed Barrecore, will join the Menorca retreat this September as the roster of locations and the story of Silver Linings evolves. The Silver Linings secret is how Sundt expertly draws upon these movement disciplines to create bespoke plans for each individual on the retreat.
